Re Item I

Basis of the opinion

Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following document:

D1: IBM Technical Disclosure Bulletin, vol 38, no 08, August 1995, "Flat Panel Auxiliary Displays"

Document D1 discloses an auxiliary LCD panel comprising an LCD segment, a software driver (page 247, 1st paragraph) and an input/output circuit connecting the computer and the LCD segment for exchange of data (p248, last paragraph). In addition the LCD is used to display icons or other graphical symbols to reduce screen clutter (page 247, 1st paragraph). Therefore the subject-matter of claim 1 is not novel and does not fulfill the criterion set forth in Article 33(2) PCT.

Re Item VII

Certain defects in the international application

The features of the claim are not provided with reference signs placed in parentheses (Rule 6.2(b) PCT).

Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the document D1 is not mentioned in the description, nor is this document identified therein.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/IB00/00187

Re Item VIII

Certain observations on the international application

The term "supplementary" used in claim 1 is vague and unclear as it does not clearly define to what is the LCD supplementary and therefore renders the definition of the subject-matter of said claim unclear (Article 6 PCT).

The statement in the description on page 14, lines 15-17 implies that the subject-matter for which protection is sought may be different to that defined by the claim, thereby resulting in lack of clarity (Article 6 PCT) when used to interpret it (see also the PCT Guidelines, III-4.3a).
